Possession and Trip Limit Increase for Gulf of Maine Cod and Haddock Effective Date: March 16, 2017, through April 30, 2017

The possession and trip limits for Gulf of Maine (GOM) cod and GOM haddock are increased for the remainder of the 2016 fishing year, as summarized in the table below. If you are currently at sea, you may land the increased limit of GOM cod and haddock. Common pool groundfish vessels that have crossed the Vessel Monitoring System demarcation line prior to March 16, 2017, may land the new possession and trip limits for that trip.

Frequently Asked Questions
Why is this action being taken?	As of February 18, 2017, 42 percent of the GOM cod annual quota and 25 percent of the GOM haddock annual quota has been caught. We are increasing the trip limits for these stocks to provide additional fishing opportunities for common pool vessels.
Is there a chance that the trip limit will go back down?	We will continue to monitor common pool catch relative to quotas, and could further adjust possession and trip limits if necessary to prevent an overage. Up-to-date quota monitoring reports can be found on the internet at: GARFO Web Site .
What happens if the annual quota is exceeded?	If the fishing year 2016 quota is exceeded for any stock, the amount of the overage will be deducted from the common pool's quota next year (i.e. fishing year 2017). We will announce any overage adjustments as close to May 1, 2017, as possible.
